Always remember that a grade or a score does not define you. As long as you give your best and work hard you can achieve wonderful things

Radius Growing Wild Schools Biodiversity Project

On Thursday, P5 Armstrong participated in the Radius Growing Wild Schools Biodiversity Project. The project aims to provide opportunities for school children in Northern Ireland to get involved with activities such as planting, bird studies, bird boxes and feeders, weeding, mini beasts and composting.

P5A enjoyed planting apple, pear and plum trees, as well as blackberry, blueberry and raspberry bushes. They immersed themselves in this experience, from the safety talk about safe use of equipment, to digging holes for planting and working together to create a garden for everyone in Lisnasharragh to enjoy for years to come. P5A are looking forward to further workshops provided by the project, as well as tasting the fruit when they are ready.
